AGRICULTURAL INDUSTRY IS MAKING BRIEF

Preparations Under Way for Review of Trade Possibilities at Imperial Conclave

UNITY OF OPINION
AIM OF COMMITTEE

OTTAWA, July 5 (CP).—Organized agriculture has filed briefs with the Government in preparation for the Imperial Economic Conference. Dealing with many phases of the industry and with intra-imperial trade in general, the briefs have been referred to the Government's tariff preparatory committee after being reviewed by a general agriculture committee, headed by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture.

A statement, issued today by the Agricultural Department, read as follows: "In recognition of the importance attaching to all problems affecting Empire food supplies, the Canadian Government is making effort to secure full expression of opinion from the agricultural industry as to our trade in farm products with the United Kingdom and elsewhere within the Empire."

UNANIMITY OF VIEWPOINT
"Besides inviting representative agricultural organizations to submit their views, the Government, through the Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, has set up in the Department of Agriculture machinery to provide every assistance, statistical and otherwise, to such organizations for the presentation of their views to the Government through the tariff preparatory committee. It is hoped that, besides rendering the needed assistance, this action will bring about a much-desired unanimity of viewpoint in the presentation of briefs as between one organization and another having a common interest in specific commodities."

COMMITTEE SET UP
"The general committee set up by the department is under the chairmanship of Mr. Weir, and consists of representatives of organized agricultural industries and representatives of the Federal Department of Agriculture, equipped by training and experience to deal with this particular project. Dr. E. Archibald, who is the agricultural representative on the tariff preparatory committee, and for the

Experts to Examine Latest Methods of Meeting Conditions

Advertising Men of Pacific Coast to Discuss Matters Related to Business Improvement at Four-Day Convention in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, July 5 (CP).—Advertising experts from many parts of the Continent are here in force, tonight, for the opening tomorrow morning of the annual convention of the Pacific Advertising Clubs' Association. More than two hundred delegates registered today.

Following registration and the annual past president's dinner tonight, the decks were cleared for the official opening ceremony tomorrow morning at the Hardly Memorial in Stanley Park. The convention will continue until Saturday. The first business session will be held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

CONSTRUCTIVE STUDY
The convention will hear experts in the advertising field from various centres of the continent, and will discuss matters related to improvement of business, necessity and value of advertising, and similar questions. The programme provides for sixteen departmental discussions. Various groups will meet as early as 8 a.m., and at other hours of the day not taken up with the convention programme, to consider departmental subjects.

While a number of social affairs have been arranged for the delegates, officials of the association explain that the Pacific Advertising Club Association convention is not a social gathering primarily, but a constructive getting together of the best marketing brains for the purpose of bringing to light the very latest methods of meeting today's business conditions.

Statesmen at Conference

Airmen Set Off Across Atlantic On World Flight

Mattern and Griffin Wander Far From Course in Fog Over Newfoundland—Flyers Take Off From Harbor Grace Soon After Landing to Refuel—Ireland Next Goal

HARBOR GRACE, Nfld., July 5 (CP).—James Mattern and Bennett Griffin were over the Atlantic tonight in a big red, white and blue plane which they hope will take them around the world in six days. They left Harbor Grace airport at 6:58 Atlantic daylight time with plans to span the ocean and refuel in Ireland tomorrow.

From Ireland their course leads over Europe to Siberia, across the length of Asia, to the Pacific Ocean, and homeward by way of the North Pacific and Alaska.

WERE LOST IN FOG
Fog, dread enemy of those who follow the skyways, rolled up over Newfoundland's coast today and formed a hazard that delayed completion of the first leg of the flight. The plane flew blindly over Bonaville Bay, Trinity Bay, and two peninsulas this afternoon before alighting at Harbor Grace, the refueling airport for many successful and fatal ocean flights. Here they dropped their plane at 4:37, just 10 hours and 36 minutes after they hopped off from New York.

REPORTED ALOFT WAY
From New York the flyers guided their plane direct to the southern tip of Nova Scotia, then followed the coastline to Cape Breton and headed over the Gulf of St. Lawrence for Newfoundland. They were

FLJI ISLANDER LOST IN NORTH

R.C.M.P. Report Expresses Fears Odd Trapper Perished on Ice Floe

OTTAWA, July 5.—James Aasele, lone Fijian islander who, for more than twenty years eked out an existence trapping along the Arctic Coast and islands east of Coronation Gulf, is listed among the missing and is thought by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to have perished on an ice floe, north of the mainland of Canada.

Blitz by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have placed together the story of the last days of Aasele, who preferred the austere climate of the North to his sunny islands far away.

REPORTED MISSING
In March of the present year Eskimos reported to Father Griffin, Roman Catholic missionary, that Aasele was missing. Superstition prevented them from investigating themselves, but after a futile reconnaissance the priest communicated with R.C.M.P. Constable T. H. Tredgold and Special Constable S. L. Polak commenced their futile search.

Aasele had three camps. On the second of these at Little Booth Island, Constable Tredgold, clearing a way to the snowed-in cabin, discovered a calendar marked off till November 14 and a diary entered up until that date. Food and trapping gear were plentiful, and the police theory is that shortly after that date and about freeze-up, the trapper left for Cape Parry, where his main camp was located and was carried to sea on floating ice.

FREE STATE DUTIES ACT INTRODUCED

British Government Will Not Recede From Position Requiring Empire Tribunal

LABOR PARTY TO OPPOSE TARIFFS

LONDON, July 5 (CP).—Great Britain will inform the Irish Free State Government tomorrow, the offer to arbitrate the land annuities dispute remains open, but arbitration must be by an Empire tribunal and not, as demanded, by President Eamon de Valera, an international body.

The British Cabinet decided on terms of the reply today, and it reaffirmed the British stand as outlined in the House of Commons, yesterday, by J. H. Thomas, Dominions Secretary, just before introduction of the resolution empowering the Government to place new duties on Free State imports as a method of recouping the amount of the annuities.

PASSING CERTAIN
Passage of the resolution by a majority of 192 in the early hours of today was followed by introduction in the House, this evening, of the "Irish Free State Special Duties Act" itself. The measure was given first reading, but will be debated tomorrow on second reading, when the Parliamentary Labor Opposition will move its rejection. The move for rejection has no chance against the Government's overwhelming majority.

The British Labor party, strongly opposing what it terms economic warfare, declares the Irish Free State has not defaulted the land annuities, although a payment of $1,500,000 due the national debt commissioners, June 30, was not made. George Lansbury, Parliamentary Labor leader, pointed today to the announcement the De Valera

BRITAIN SHOWS FINE STABILITY

Feeling Widespread of Her Speedy Restoration to World Leadership

TORONTO, July 5 (CP).—"In spite of the depression, the feeling of the British people is one of confidence in the future of Great Britain, the record of British industrial production during the postwar period is one showing great stability than that of any other country," says a monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada, issued today.

The letter contains a summary of conditions in Great Britain, and states that, whereas the depression has brought the index of industrial activity from a high of 128 down to 68, the United States, it has only brought the British index of industrial activity down from 116 in 1929 to between 95 and 100 at the present time.

WELL PREPARED
"When world prices begin to improve and world trade takes an upward turn, British industry will find itself well prepared to take advantage of improved demand in foreign markets," the letter declares. "There is a widespread feeling that British stability and perseverance, in the face of undue expansion and deflation of the past ten years, will restore Great Britain to world leadership in both finance and industry."

"With the depression," the letter concludes, "unemployment more than doubled in Great Britain, but the number of those entirely unemployed increased by about 1,300,000, whereas it increased by 10,000,000 in the United States. Recent months have shown a steady decline in unemployment, and this would seem to indicate a corresponding improvement in purchasing power and business activity."

ADJOURN FOR FEW WEEKS

World Disarmament Conference Finds Concrete Action Impossible Yet

GENEVA, July 5 (CP).—The World Disarmament Conference adjourned tonight to adjourn until autumn, but before it does it will issue a declaration commending President Herbert Hoover's dramatic proposal for reducing world armaments by one-third.

The American plan is so far-reaching and raises such fundamental questions that concrete action on it would be impossible in the next few weeks. The world conference therefore will adjourn while it is gone over in detail by the respective powers.

Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, was authorized by the conference bureau tonight to start drafting the declaration with which the conference will suspend its work, commenced February 2 with the first of the statements of national theories of disarmament, limitation and reduction.

DECLARATION POINTS
The declaration will contain these points:

(1) A tribute to the American proposals as a valuable contribution to the work of the conference.
(2) Recognition that parts of the plan dealing with limitations of the number of effectives and of naval armaments, although a payment of $1,500,000 due the national debt commissioners, June 30, was not made. George Lansbury, Parliamentary Labor leader, pointed today to the announcement the De Valera

THREE DEAD IN PLANE CRASH

Veteran Northland Pilot and Two Mechanics Perished in Far North

EDMONTON, July 5 (CP).—Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers and a coroner tonight were being flown over the wilderness of the Northwest Territories to investigate the death of three men in an airplane crash near Macleod Lake, about five days ago.

Eighty miles north of Fort Rae a searching pilot, Walter Gilbert, spotted the crumpled plane piled among the dense shrubbery on a rocky hillside. In the wreckage were the bodies of Pilot Andy Cruickshank, thirty-three-year-old veteran flyer of the Far North, and

No one knows why Hornby went into the wilds from Fort McMurray but the finding of samples of gold ore in his rotting shack has led to the belief he knew of a gold find.

Senator Is Injured in Car Smash

HALIFAX, July 6.—Hospital authorities this morning said Senator W. H. Dennis was not in a critical condition as a result of injuries received in an automobile collision which caused the death of Miss Margaret Smith and injuries to four other motorists.

He was suffering from severe head wounds and injuries to his back. It was feared his spine had been injured, but this could not be ascertained until an X-ray examination was performed later today.

Storer and Ronald Forced to Halt at Grand Forks for Night

GRAND FORKS, July 5 (CP).—Misfortune's goddess frowned again tonight, raised sweeping winds and forced Leul, R. H. Storer and Leul, B. Storer, to halt at Grand Forks, a landing was made. Plans were made to take off immediately to complete the flight, but strengthening winds and low ceiling forced postponement of the Grand Forks-Vancouver jump until tomorrow.

Making the Regina-Lethbridge hop without too much strain, the airmen nosed their machines for the Crow's Nest Pass and a direct flight to Vancouver. Rough weather was encountered shortly after entering the pass and a broken oil line, the flyers kept on in the hope of reaching Vancouver tonight. Last night was spent at Regina's prairie airport and tonight towering mountains provide the background for the struggling airmen at the airport here.

BAD WEATHER AGAIN
Defeated in the attempt at a nonstop flight through being forced down near Sudbury, Ont., early Monday with a broken oil line, the flyers kept on in the hope of reaching Vancouver tonight. Last night was spent at Regina's prairie airport and tonight towering mountains provide the background for the struggling airmen at the airport here.

UNWILLING TO ADJOURN
Russia and Germany, expressing objections to adjournment, asserted they were unable to find any points on which the conference really was agreed.

Shot Own Foot
Chasing Robbers
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 5.—James A. Senese was injured when four men drove away from his sandwich place without paying for their meals. He seized a revolver, jumped into his automobile and started in pursuit.

A few blocks away he overtook the four, pulled the trigger of his weapon, and shot himself in the foot. The men continued their flight, while Senese went to a hospital.

Killed on Slope Of Mount Hood

PORTLAND, July 5.—Glen Gulickson, Portland youth, died today from injuries he suffered when he fell 600 feet down the icy slope of Mount Hood.

Gulickson and his companions had climbed to the summit of Mount Hood and were on their return trek when he lost his footing and plunged downward. He attempted to break his fall with his ice pick, and dropped the broken 600 feet apparently uninjured. His companions reported he then lost balance and crashed dismally down the remaining 300 feet.

R.C.M.P. Corporal Shot to Death in Attempt to Stop Bandit Car—Posse of Citizens and Police Surround Dense Bluff Where Murderers Are Believed to Be Trapped

Heavy Rain and Darkness Delay Search of Hide-Out

SASKATOON, July 5.—Darkness tonight came to the help of the two murderers of Corporal L. V. Ralls, Mounted Policeman, who for several hours have been taking refuge in a big, dense bluff three miles northwest of Lintlaw, about 190 miles east of this city.

For several hours, more than twenty-five policemen and 300 citizens have been scouring the heavy thickets and believe they have surrounded the two men, who callously shot Corporal Ralls to death this morning at Foam Lake when he ordered them to stop their automobile.

RAIN HAMPER SEARCH
Rain has fallen steadily today at Lintlaw, adding to the difficulties of the pursuers, but a relentless search has been continued and tonight police were patrolling all roads east of Saskatoon towards Lanigan on the chance that the bandits escape the posse, hastily organized from the country near Foam Lake.

Heavily armed, with tear gas bombs and machine guns, mounted police have been rushed to the scene of the stern chase from all directions, and reinforcements are constantly arriving. No developments are expected tonight, and police will concentrate on preventing the thugs breaking from the bluff which has sheltered them all day. Sentinels have been set for the night and a state of siege exists there.

WAS PATROLLING BRIDGE
Corporal Ralls, notified by Constable Novakowski, that the two bandits had robbed a store and were headed west, parked his car near a bridge and awaited their arrival. Novakowski, after phoning, started to trail the bandit car.

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—The city park commission today granted permission for the erection of a "slave block" in the Los Angeles Plaza as an aid to the unemployed.

New Legislation on Motor Insurance Is Effective on Sept. 1

Order-in-Council Brings Financial Responsibility Measure Into Existence on Same Date as Other Provinces—Bill Explained

BRITISH Columbia's new automobile insurance legislation, passed at the last session of the Provincial Legislature, will come into effect on September 1, it was announced following a session of the Provincial Cabinet yesterday morning, when an Order-in-Council was passed fixing the date in conformity with Ontario and other provinces in the Dominion having the same, or similar legislation.

DENY GOLD HAS BEEN DISCOVERED

Cocos Island Treasure Hunters Believe, However, Metal Diviner Giving Hopeful Indications

VANCOUVER, July 5.—With aid of a new metal diviner, treasure hunters on Cocos Island, off the coast of Costa Rica, have defined a spot in the bed of Wafer Creek under which they believe lies the famous Devonshire treasure, buried there by Capt. Graham of the British warship Devonshire after that adventurous seaman had turned pirate, according to reports received here.

Commenting on "exaggerated reports" which have come through from various sources regarding actual discovery of $80,000,000 in treasure, J. G. Targeon, vice-president of Cocos Island Treasure, Ltd., a company backing the venture, denied that they had discovered the hidden gold.

Two facts are quoted by company officials as being hopeful indications that the party may be working in the right spot, there is evidence indicating that the creek has been diverted at some time above the spot indicated by the metal diviner. At this point, too, there is a natural depression in the creek bed, possibly the consequence of terrain having been disturbed and afterward settled.

SAFEGUARDS OWNER
The new insurance legislation deals with the form of contract with insurance and provides specially for a motor vehicle liability policy, which will have to be issued by all companies. The policy protects not only the insured, but all persons using a car with the consent of the insured, against liability for legal damages.

FRENCH ARE STIFFENING IN DEMANDS

Premier Herriot Amazes Delegates by Changed Attitude on Debt
MAY WITHDRAW FORMER OFFER

LAUSANNE, July 5 (CP).—A sudden hardening in the attitude of Premier Herriot, of France, regarding the Lausanne reparations conference, amazed conference circles tonight.

Premier Herriot declared if the conference does not satisfy the French claims, then the Young plan for reparations payments by Germany must continue. He emphasized the importance to France of a safeguard in any reparations settlement against failure to secure a revision of the war debts agreements with the United States.

He declined to even discuss the German demand for elimination of the war guilt phrase from the Versailles Treaty, although the impression was growing stronger tonight that Chancellor Franz von Papen attached the greatest importance to this, looking upon the total "final liability" that might be set for Germany, in lieu of reparations annuities, as a secondary consideration.

The change in the French attitude followed Premier Herriot's return from Paris and discussions with his Cabinet.

Premier Herriot not only refused to yield an inch but even receded from his previous attitude. In a statement to the press he said he had reduced the original French demand from a final German liability of seven billion marks to four billion marks at the earliest solicitation of Premier MacDonald.

He had been criticized at home for this and was not bound to it, he added, reserving the right to revise his stand.

Earlier in the day Premier MacDonald sharply countered the Italian submission that intra-European debts should be canceled along with reparations. He pointed out under the draft settlement Great Britain was giving up $200,000,000.

She could not be left completely bare in the event the United States refused to revise war debt figures.

Belief the Germans regarded elimination of the war guilt label as more important than the exact figure of their "final liability" was borne out when in conference with Premier MacDonald the Germans raised their offer to roughly $625,000,000. It is still a long way from the $1,000,000,000 set as the total of a German lump sum which would

The price was $2.90 per 100 and accrued interest. Two other firms have options on $200,000 more and have until July 15 in which to complete the purchase.

TO INSPECT INDUSTRY
After the usual business sessions Wednesday, a get-together of the exhibit will be held Wednesday night. On Thursday the delegates will visit Bowen Island. Friday night, a banquet will be held at the Vancouver Hotel. Saturday, the visitors will be taken to inspect some British Columbia industry, and in the afternoon will be the guests of Vancouver Thoroughbred Association at the race meet at Lansdowne.

Many notable advertising displays will be seen at the exhibit, including the San Francisco Advertising Club's campaign which won trophies for the best community effort of its kind, and which was developed around the theme of "joy of giving."

ADVERTISING HISTORY
As delegates enter Hotel Vancouver they are greeted with a comprehensive and interesting display of advertising from earliest days to the present. The exhibit occupies 300 panels, stretching from the hotel entrance, through the rounds and along Peacock Alley.

The first exhibit is a large writing the name of Rembrandt on the fruit of the Persia and sculpture with Hittite hieroglyphs. That the Babylonians and Assyrians recognized the value of advertising is shown by copies of display matter now resting in museums. Right through the centuries down to the bellers of London and on to the bright lithographed advertising matter of the day, runs the display.

Advertising of other nations is shown, including some exceptionally fine samples of artistry, unique Russian posters, and other advertisements.

Predominant note of the exhibit of modern advertising is that newspaper display space is used by the biggest advertisers everywhere.

two mechanics, Horace Torg, thirty-five, and Harry King, thirty-two, and a passenger, C. H. "Punch" Dickens, district superintendent of the Canadian Airways, Limited, owners of the plane, will leave Edmonton on Thursday to personally investigate. It is not known if the bodies can be brought here for burial, but flying officers consider it improbable.

The wreckage was located after company flyers had been cruising over the air route between Edmonton Bay and Fort Rae in search of Crulchank and his crew, who had been unreported since leaving Edmonton Bay five days ago. Gilbert spotted the debris from the air and sighted on a nearby lake to investigate. All the men were believed to have died instantly.

POOR VISIBILITY
Poor visibility is blamed for the crash, and it is thought Crulchank, flying low, crashed into the side of a hill. All were instantly killed.

For the last five years Crulchank had been a pilot with the Canadian Airways, Limited. He is survived by his widow and two young daughters.

Mechanic King was a married man, his wife and two children living at Fort McMurray. He had been with the Canadian Airways for three years.

Horace Torg was unmarried. He had been employed by the aviation company for the past two years.

The standard policy will not give the gratuitous passenger any right to claim damages from the owner or driver of the car in which that passenger is riding. Any auto owner who wishes to be protected against this form of liability will have to have his policy endorsed accordingly.

The enactment of this new legislation follows a long and arduous educational campaign, conferences with insurance groups and various other organizations interested in automobile traffic and insurance and this work was undertaken by H. C. Garrett, superintendent of insurance for the Provincial Government.

Mr. Garrett stated yesterday, after learning that the Government had finally approved the legislation, that he had hoped it would become effective July 1, but as other provinces had to be considered, the date was agreed on as September 1.

GRASS FIRES INCREASING

Chief Vernon Stewart Issues Warning After Three Serious Outbreaks Occur

Extreme caution has to be shown by citizens if the fire hazard here is to be reduced. Fire Chief Vernon W. Stewart stated last night after the city fire department apparatus had returned from the third alarm to grass fires in one day.

The first fire was at the corner of Haultain Street and Belmont Avenue, where grass was burned over a large area. The next grass fire was at 700 Herald Street, and this was followed by another at the corner of Rose Street and Topas Avenue.

This latter fire was the most serious of the three. The men were out more than two hours fighting the blaze, which burned up over the hillside, sweeping over the old jail site.

A chimney fire at 726 Comorant Street and a false alarm completed the day's activities for the department.

Seeing a car approach, Corporal Ralls stepped onto the bridge and the car stopped. As the corporal advanced, a shot was fired, and Corporal Ralls fell dying with a bullet above the heart. The bandits then a volley could be heard as the corporal's car to stop pursuit and doubled back east.

"They've got me. They've gone east," was the corporal's last words.

AWAKENED BY SHOTS
Mrs. W. Baird, wife of the man who took the dying constable to the doctor, said she and her husband were awakened by the sound of shots at 3:10 a.m.

They looked out of the window and saw two cars. One, a large sedan, darted away as they looked, crying for help. Mrs. Baird said they immediately placed the dying man in their car and rushed to the nearest doctor.

"Under the impetus of the closest of co-operation, the work is now nearing completion. "That seems to me to sweep away all question of either default of dishonesty or breaking of any agreement. The Labor Party desire to refer the matter to the Imperial Conference, leaving the reference free to appoint a tribunal either within or without the Empire."

MAINTAINS SILENCE
Agreement on the arbitration tribunal tonight, however, seemed as far off as ever. The Republican Government of the Irish Free State has declined to make any statement on the matter for the past few days, although the Republican organ, The Irish Press, today criticised the British attitude as excluding Ireland from the principles of international arbitration.

reported twice over Nova Scotia, from Guysboro at 11:15 and Schar Island at 11:35.

The next report indicated they had lost their way in the fog and were far off their course. It came from Nelson, Bonaville Bay, about 100 miles off their objective, Harbor Grace.

Wesleyville reported the plane flying low over the village, and a few minutes later it was over Cape Pless. At 2:47 one of the flyers dropped a note at Cape Pless: "Please point to place Harbor Grace."

AIRPORT IS REACHED
The excited villagers motioned the flyers southward, and the plane disappeared over Bonaville Bay. Crossing two peninsulas and Trinity Bay, it skirted the shore of Conception Bay and found the Harbor Grace airport, which is perched on a table of land above the village.

Their fuel, 385 gallons taken on at New York, was almost exhausted. They appeared tired, but their plans had no time for an overnight stay in Newfoundland, so they filled the tanks to their capacity of 600 gallons, ate a light lunch, and soared seaward. Griffin, a wartime flyer, and Mattern, one-time jazz drummer, are following almost the same route plotted by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, who circled the world in 8 days 15 hours and 51 minutes.

Despite their delay in finding Harbor Grace, they expressed confidence here in plans for setting a new record of about six days for the journey.

N. W. Whittaker to Carry Banner for Saanich Liberals

Victoria Barrister Is Named Candidate to Represent Party in Constituency at Next Provincial Election—Nomination Meeting Held

THE Liberals of Saanich, the constituency won by Premier S. F. Tolmie in the 1928 Provincial elections, reaffirmed their confidence in Norman W. Whittaker, by nominating him as their candidate to contest the next election campaign. Mr. Whittaker was defeated in the 1928 poll by Premier Tolmie, who had a majority of 543.

The nomination meeting was held last night in the 1928 Provincial elections, reaffirmed their confidence in Norman W. Whittaker, by nominating him as their candidate to contest the next election campaign. Mr. Whittaker was defeated in the 1928 poll by Premier Tolmie, who had a majority of 543.

The name of Mr. Whittaker was placed in nomination by David Ramsay and was seconded by Neil McGillivray, both proposer and secondor giving short addresses in support of their choice. No other nominations were received by the chair and H. L. Briggs, president of the Saanich Liberal Association, declared Mr. Whittaker the official candidate for the Liberal party in the Saanich constituency.

Following his nomination, Mr. Whittaker addressed the assembled delegates briefly and stated that he was fully aware of the severe responsibility and the heavy obligation that had been placed upon him.

Mr. Whittaker reviewed a number of the suggested systems, all of which, he declared, were faulty and not adaptable to the Anglo-Saxon civilization. With regard to the suggestion that there should be fewer members in the Legislature, Mr. Whittaker declared it would be a dangerous experiment to place the administration of government in the hands of fewer people. "The function of a strong Opposition is to act as a safeguard for the people as a whole. It would appear that the leaders of the new systems are tired of their own party and not tired of the party system," Mr. Whittaker declared.

The newly nominated candidate made reference to the claims of the National Council party and read a number of extracts from a pamphlet which, he said, contained the general program of the National Council. He claimed there was nothing in the platform that attacked at the root of the evils. "There was nothing definite in the policy of unemployment, which policy he described as the 'most beautiful vague plank in the whole platform'."

In conclusion, he mentioned that a general convention of the Liberal party of the province would be held in Victoria in the near future, to which all associations would be asked to send recommendations for the outlining of a platform to be submitted to the voters when the election was held. He mentioned that the Saanich Association proposed to send in two or three recommendations. These would be: state health insurance and unemployment insurance, both of which, he declared, were necessary to a well-balanced social structure.

The customary resolution of confidence in the Leader of the Liberal party in the province was moved by David Ramsay, seconded by E. E. Bell and carried. A resolution of sympathy to A. Derman, a member of the central executive, was carried by a standing vote. Mr. Derman suffered the loss of his son through an accident.

Following the nomination, George Pearson, M.P.P. of Nanaimo, and C. H. O'Halloran, Liberal member for the Federal riding in the last Dominion election, addressed the delegates. Refreshments were served at the close of the business session.

Mr. Justice Murphy, in a judgment handed down yesterday in the action of Edward Hodgson vs. W. J. Taylor, K.C., and others, finds that the judgments and judgments alleged to have been registered against the properties of the defendants have been satisfied in full, and that the transfer of 300 acres of the defendant's property in Saanich to Arthur Aylward had settled any registered charges he may have held when the transfer was made.

The action was one in which Mr. Hodgson sought to set aside registration of charges against the 600-acre property of Mr. Taylor to allow him to proceed with a judgment which he alleges he holds against the defendant, and in which Mr. Hodgson now resident in England, was successful.

H. A. Maclean, K.C., was counsel for Mr. Hodgson, and H. W. R. Moore acted at the trial for Mr. Taylor and others. Several defendants had been named, but some entered disclaimers before the trial, which lasted two days, was started.

UPHOLDS PARTY SYSTEM
Mr. Whittaker took the opportunity to refer to the criticism that has been directed to the party system of government. "It seems to be the thought that the party system is a failure as it is apt to give rise to abuses. That is the most common form of criticism, but when you analyze the so-called new systems that are being proposed, there is nothing new in them and they have been tried in other parts of the world and have never proved successful."

Mr. Whittaker reviewed a number of the suggested systems, all of which, he declared, were faulty and not adaptable to the Anglo-Saxon civilization. With regard to the suggestion that there should be fewer members in the Legislature, Mr. Whittaker declared it would be a dangerous experiment to place the administration of government in the hands of fewer people. OFFICER TO BE HONORED

Memorial Service Will Be Held for Late Captain John S. Woods

A memorial service for the late Captain John Stanley Woods, M.C., P.P.C.L.L., late of Winnipeg and Victoria, will be held next Sunday morning, at 9:30 o'clock, at St. Paul's Garrison Church, Esquimalt.

Captain Woods, whose death occurred on April 7, was born in Kenora, Ont., in January, 1880, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Woods. Early in 1915 he joined a draft of the 51st Battalion in Edmonton. Going overseas he transferred to the Royal Canadian Regiment and served throughout the war in France with distinction, attaining the rank of captain and company commander. He was transferred from the 3rd Division to the 1st Division as staff captain of the Intelligence Department attached to the 2nd Brigade, and then was again transferred to the Corps Intelligence Service. Early in the war he was awarded the Military Cross and Bar.

Prior to his transfer to Victoria, in 1919 he joined the P.P.C.L.L. stationed at Rosedale Barracks, Toronto; thence to London, Ont., in January, 1920. From there he was transferred to the P.P.C.L.L. in December, 1920, and in this home service, as during the war overseas, was popular alike with his fellow officers and men.

On March 3, 1927, he married Alice, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Nash, of Pemberton Road, by whom, together with a daughter of two, Sally Ann, he is survived. His mother is living in Los Angeles and there are several brothers and sisters.

Multiple Wounds Make Condition Of Boy Critical

WITH the exception of Thomas Muir, aged five years, all those injured in the explosion on Obed Avenue last Sunday were reported by hospital attendants yesterday to be well on the way to recovery.

The Muir boy, however, has shown no signs of improvement since he was operated upon and had particles of tin and detonator caps removed from his abdomen.

He suffered numerous small wounds, which caused him considerable loss of blood. He is making a desperate fight for his life as he lies quietly in his cot in the children's ward of the Jubilee Hospital.

of these harrowing noises at once. But, on second thoughts, I think it best to make a sandwich of a sort, if you save what I mean, kind of interlarding the raucous rumblings and loud and startling rasping noises between two layers of pleasant music."

THE TOP LAYER
"Don't you love the sweet sound of a lullaby on a little boy, or the 'sweet-sweet' of the robins on the front lawn? I do! Then there is the hum-hum of a well-tuned up rotary machine; the lap-lap of a well-driven paddle (especially if the occupant of the canoe is a pretty girl); and how about the shoo-shoo of a giant engine, tugging slowly, but surely, a huge length and weight of freight cars through the station junction?"

"Put those together for a sample top piece of one out of many assorted sandwiches I could make for you, Master!"

THE LOWER LAYER
"How full this old spacious and spacious spheroid is of disturbing, irritating, aggravating, annoying and exasperating noises, I do not want to tell you, Master. You, as I know full well, are ever wishing this was an India rubber world, of silent streets, cars, dumb motors, bangles, doors, creakless boots, heel-tapping-less young ladies' hoodies, and cinnamons who bark not; but I think it best not to even mention some other mental irritants that make you want to tear your hair, of which there is a little enough now, or commit murder, or at least torture the producer, to say nothing of the rumblings of shallow little minds."

TOP-HEAVY LEGISLATURES

There is nothing except the obstinacy of sectional representation which prevents substantial reductions being made in the membership of the various Legislatures throughout the Dominion. When the matter of redistribution was discussed during the past session of the Provincial Legislature of British Columbia it was chiefly the claims of Vancouver that stood as an obstacle to the economies proposed, and these claims were preferred in a dogged manner. It is undoubted that our Provincial Legislature could function more efficiently with a reduction of about 25 to 30 per cent of its membership. It is axiomatic, as well, that the Cabinet could be curtailed by three of its members without any harm inuring to administration.

It is not only in British Columbia, but throughout the Dominion, that legislative bodies are top-heavy. Premier Henry of Ontario is contemplating a reduction of the personnel of the Legislature in that province from 112 to 82. Several Conservative associations in Ontario favor such reform. It is one that Manitoba could adopt with advantage, for 58 members is too many for the territory involved. It would be a better plan still if the three Prairie Provinces would combine for legislative purposes, a project which would effect a very substantial saving in government. Similarly, there are no economic or political reasons why the three Maritime Provinces should not be under one government. It could readily be foreseen that such inter-provincial unions would reduce the cost of government in a very substantial manner.

WAR DEBTS

The Allied Governments in the late war, during that struggle and immediately afterwards, borrowed a net total of over $9,000,000,000 from the United States. Of this amount $4,277,000,000 ($4,250,000,000) was lent to Great Britain. During the same period Britain lent large sums to the Allies, a total of $1,600,000,000, or nearly twice as much as she borrowed from the United States. Britain lent large sums to Russia. These were repaid by the Soviet Government. Between the years 1923 and 1927 the debts in question, with the exception of what Russia owes Britain, were funded by special arrangements between the countries concerned.

In the matter of the settlement between Britain and the United States the former country agreed to meet 82.3 per cent of her full liabilities. On the other hand, Britain arranged to accept a far lower percentage of the debts owing to her. France is repaying her on the basis of 42.6 per cent and Italy only 15.5 per cent of the full liabilities. This favorable treatment accorded by Britain as a creditor nation was on account of the policy which she aimed at from the beginning, namely, a "clean slate." This policy did not commend itself to the United States. Great Britain then substituted what is known as the Balfour Note, the principle of which was briefly "that Great Britain undertook not to demand more from Germany by way of Reparations, and from the Allies by way of war debt repayments, than was necessary to meet her payments to the United States."

Originally German reparations were set at a total of $6,600,000,000. This total was reduced by subsequent arrangements. It is estimated that up to date Germany has paid in reparations a sum of $650,000,000, in cash and kind. During the period of her payment of this total she has borrowed on long and short terms a sum of $1,000,000,000. It is out of her borrowings that she has paid reparations. Germany, so far as her internal economy is concerned, is not out of pocket in capital, as yet, through what she has done in the matter of paying reparations. In other words she has borrowed to pay, and has borrowed more than the amount she has disbursed to the Allied Powers. It is this feature of the situation that tends to complicate proposals for the cancellation of war debts, so far as their contingency rests on the payment of reparations by Germany.

INFLATION AND RUSSIA

There are many advocates of a policy of inflation of prices at the present time. In theory their proposal, provided it could be adopted, might have a beneficial effect. In practical politics, however, conditions exist that make such a proposal one that might conceivably promote chaos. For one thing it seems hopeless to discuss reflation of commodity prices to the 1928 level until the world as a whole reaches a decision on its attitude towards Russia's economic policy. The proposal of inflation appears equally hopeless until there has been a financial decision regarding the future of debts and reparations.

The world, apart from the legacies imposed by the Great War, is at present divided into two units of which Russia is one and the rest of the world the other. The units are not reconcilable in an economic sense. No world conference designed to raise the commodity price level would reach effective decisions, because what the rest of the world might decide to stabilize would be undersold by Russia. In the face of the irreconcilable elements at work, governments, and particularly the British Government, give financial support to Russian trade in the form of credits. That is a policy of working at cross purposes.

Mr. Waldron Smithers, in discussing this problem, says: "It is difficult to understand why the leaders of the trade unions who have devoted their lives to raising the standard of living of the members they represent, cannot see that, by supporting the Russian policy, they are undoing their life's work. No one can object to Russian competition as a factor in world trade, if they will conform to the accepted rules of the game; but Russia dumps goods on the world at a price which takes no account of the cost of production. Russia is trying to create a revolution in civilization. If they win, we lose. It is folly to transact with her, under existing conditions, just as great a folly as to buy from a receiver of stolen goods. It is planning our own destruction, and aiding and abetting her in undermining the social order which has been built up through the ages. It is impossible to argue, or to diplomatize, with a mad dog."

In Mr. Smithers' opinion, the civilized world faces two alternatives: one is to continue to trade with Russia, and, ultimately, to reduce the standard of living to the Russian level, which means a drastic reduction of wages, and of part, or even all, of the interest on fixed-interest-bearing securities; the other, is to say to Russia, "we will treat you in exactly the same way as you treat us. You have economically ostracized the world, and until you are prepared to play the game according to the rules we will refuse to trade with you."

WASTING TIME AT LAUSANNE

Open diplomacy has its drawbacks, as is being discovered at the Lausanne Conference on Reparations. From a strictly political standpoint it would be folly for Chancellor Von Papen to yield an inch in his determination that reparations must cease. He faces an election on July 31, and any yielding on his part would be sufficient to secure his overwhelming defeat at the polls. On the other hand, there is nothing that can be done to secure any promise from the United States that war debts will be cancelled, or that they will be reduced substantially. In that country, too, an election is forthcoming on November 8. Both the Republicans and the Democrats have signified their adherence to the collection of the war debts owed to Washington. That is a plank in both platforms.

What hope is there, by open diplomacy, of securing any agreement which would solve the interdependent problem of war debts and reparations? National politics, in Germany and in the United States, stand in the way of any such settlement, for the time being. Time is being wasted at Lausanne. The political stage is not yet set for a settlement.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin is not given to undue optimism. His is a stable mind which views facts as they are. His summary of conditions in Britain is: "We are positively holding our own at a time when our chief competitors are losing ground rapidly." Another note of assurance is found in the statement made by Sir E. Hilton Young: "Already I see evidence of a revival in trade in some vital industries."

Mr. Rudyard Kipling is a fairly astute observer in most walks of life. His belief is that Canada will be the first to emerge from the present depression. He says: "We are all in deep water together, nationally, but we are going to pull out of it in the next two years, and my notion is that the Dominion will have her team out first."

An Ontario asked recently what about the development of the St. Lawrence by International sanction and under international control. The reply of a fellow citizen was: "We have our river now; why not let us keep it."

THE STARLING

A startling whistles from the chimney pot. And all my world, as by some magic spell, Is touched to loveliness: now quietude forgot. Are the dream streets, I see a dell. Where happy wild things play; the honey bees, Rabbits with startled eyes and listening ears, Scared by the smallest whisper of the breeze. That laughs among the grasses at their fears; Blue butterflies, like scraps of the blue sky, Flit to and fro, and with the singing stream. A merry water-wagtail hurries by. —E. Joyce Harrison in Poetry of Today.

THE PRICE OF INDIFFERENCE

Nuisance taxes when they first come into force are always a heavy drain upon the evasive ingenuity upon the purses of the citizenry. The other is now vibrant with gossip about the ways in which banks and depositors might co-operate to save the stamp tax on cheques and about systems of local private mail delivery which might be cheaper than three-cent postage. This volume of feverish thought could be much better employed. If the spiritual energy that is now going into futile scheming to withhold a few cents from the Treasury here and there had been concentrated at the right time in pressure upon Congress, governmental economy would long ago have obliterated the need for petty impositions. —New York Herald-Tribune.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

There is no better test of education than the student's choice after he is free from the restraints of academic discipline. Does he decide that he should be given preferential treatment in life's struggle because of his education? Does he think there is any substitute for character? Can he expect to succeed without honest effort? Can he afford to spend his time in idleness, amusement, sport?

This morning we are following a precedent which is somewhat hoary and appears to have become a trifle discredited among up-to-date and some advanced preachers of the Gospel—and other things. We are beginning with a text, and our text is chosen from a newspaper discourse delivered by Rev. W. H. Vance, who is both a divine and a professor, connected, we believe, with the University of British Columbia. The discourse from which our passage (printed above) is selected appears to be applicable not only to students but to all sorts and conditions of men. Can anybody hope to succeed in the battle of life without honest effort—for life is still a battle, although there are many people besides students who have gained university degrees who appear to expect to pass through life "on flowery beds of ease?"

You will remember the ancient lamentation that times are out of joint. If we were inclined to lamentation at all (we trust not), we should say that the times are not so much out of joint as out of balance. Balances are capable of easy adjustment, but when a veritable out of joint, that is more delicate and difficult matter. The great need of the world at the present time is a precisely adjusted and stiff backbone. The word self-determination as applied to nations is somewhat of a misnomer. It is credited, but the word self-reliance as applied to individuals is still of considerable importance and never can be discarded.

The fault we have to find with some universities and many university professors is that they are not encouraging self-reliance among their students but picking holes in systems—finding fault with systems of government, with systems of doing business and systems of conducting industries, and attributing all the alleged difficulties of life to existing institutions. Instead of cultivating and trying to promote a spirit of self-reliance and teaching the necessity of individual effort, they are preaching doctrines of social discontent and propagating a spirit of anarchy within the circles in which they exercise a certain influence. This anarchical spirit was demonstrated when the students of the University of British Columbia went upon a rampage, held meetings in different parts of the province and tried to dictate terms to the government in the financial relations between the people who pay the taxes and the institution which is maintained upon the taxes.

We all know what young people are, and especially what young people are, whose education is rudimentary both academically and in the affairs of life and business. Being fundamentally ill-informed in the essential affairs of life, nearly all students are extremely radical in their views—until such views have been modified by experience. For that reason, it should not be the business of professors to encourage extreme views but to advocate patience and moderation.

There have been many illustrious examples in the history of the world of young men of extreme views becoming later in life men of moderate and reasonable views. Disraeli burst into public life as a Radical and later became a confirmed Tory. Gladstone began his spectacular public career as a Conservative, and later was the leader of Liberal Governments. There are several former Radicals in the Imperial government of Ramsay MacDonald. In Canada Sir Robert Borden was a Liberal in his early political career and was a trusted leader in the Conservative Party when he retired. Sir Richard Cartwright was a young Conservative who became Finance Minister in a Liberal administration. Time modifies views, and experience is a better teacher than the most learned of university professors.

There cannot be success in life without honest and persistent effort. The portals of a university do not open to admit a drone and a dullard "wise in his own conceit" and after he has finished his prescribed course, release him into the world a leader in thought and action. It is an easy matter to find fault with systems and institutions. It is quite a different thing to find existing systems and institutions have been pulled down to establish better systems and institutions in their places. The existing difficulties of the world are mostly due to speculative actions. Those difficulties are more likely to be aggravated than remedied by propagating speculative thoughts and attempting to apply speculative theories. That is why thoughtful men, including some thoughtful professors, are doubtful whether modern education is fulfilling the purpose for which it was established, whether it is not teaching the young idea how to shoot at a wrong mark.

LURES AND FINES
 Sir—About a year ago a number of fishermen were brought up and fined for using more than one spoon on a line, which no one knew was illegal. They were all fined. Some appealed to a higher court without effect.

Today I saw the same kind of tackle for sale in a sporting goods store, and was informed that there was now no restriction as to the number of "lures," provided there was only one hook.

Under the circumstances, those who were fined should have their fines and costs returned. What does the Department of Fisheries say?

ANGLICANS HOLD ANNUAL OUTING

The Victoria and district council of the A.Y.P.A. recently held a basket picnic at Witty's Beach, about 160 members being present. The picnic was won by the Victoria St. Alban's branch for gaining the most aggregate points in the afternoon's sports events, while St. Michael's branch won the tug-of-war contest. Baseball and swimming were enjoyed by all. A sing-song and campfire in the evening concluded the outing.

REEVE REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Albert Heald Tells Council
Esquimalt Resolutions
Passed Unanimously

Resolutions sponsored by Esquimalt advocating the collection of licences by municipalities for beer parlors within their boundaries, and also requesting a grant from the Federal Government for tax-free lands, were passed unanimously at the convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in Nelson, B.C., last night.

The first resolution was one which was brought up by Councillor Robert A. Anderson at an earlier council meeting, urging the enactment of legislation giving power to municipal councils to collect the $1,000 a year licence fee from operators of beer parlors within their boundaries.

TAX-FREE PROPERTY

The other matter is one which has long been advocated in the municipality as a result of the non-revenue-producing Government lands in the municipality used for military and naval purposes.

A complaint from John E. Day, 59 Cook Street, of the dim lights on Esquimalt Road, was referred to the fire and light committee. A communication from Mayor Ralph Webb, of Winnipeg, to have the council send a delegate to the Union of Canadian Municipalities convention in progress in that city during July 4, 5 and 6, was received and filed.

NAME REPRESENTATIVE

It was decided to request Captain R. P. Matheson to act as the council representative on the board of appeal for the zoning by-law. The board will consist of three members, one appointed by the council, one by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, and a chairman appointed by the first two members. A resolution requesting His Honor to appoint a member to the board was passed accordingly.

FORMER UNIVERSITY SCHOOL STUDENT IS GIVEN SCHOLARSHIP

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glioma, of this city, parents of Vivian Glioma, who attended University School here, that the latter has won the distinction of passing at the head of the student class of the Westinghouse Electric Company in Pittsburgh. This carries with it a scholarship which entitles him to four years in any university.

In a letter to his parents, the local boy announced that he would continue his technical training in the Carnegie Technical Institute in New York, which he regarded as the premier technical college in the world.

Vivian Glioma has had a splendid course throughout his training, which began in this city. He won a scholarship to University School here and ever since has been heading his classes in his training in a technical line.

Local Stampede Steals Glamour From Gold Rush

The gold rush in the interior was dimmed somewhat yesterday afternoon by a silver stampede, which took place on the corner of Fort and Broad Streets.

Some kind-hearted tourist, evidently doing his best to alleviate the so-called depression by putting his loose cash into circulation, began throwing small change in the midst of a group of newsboys waiting for their papers. Immediately there was a mad stampede, and for several minutes traffic was held up while boys of all sizes and colors scrambled for the silver.

After watching the struggle, the stranger placed his hand in his pocket, and finding it empty, sauntered off, followed for a few blocks by his newly-found admirers.

LIVED IN CITY ALL HER LIFE

Mrs. Thomas A. Brown, Native Daughter, Dies at Age of Thirty-Eight Years

The death took place at the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday of Mary Charlotte Beaumont Brown, wife of Thomas Allsop Brown, 1880 St. Ann Street, Victoria, aged thirty-eight years.

The deceased was born in Victoria, spending her lifetime here, where she is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beaumont Boggs, one daughter, Charmian Allsop Brown, and two sons, Herbert P. R. Brown and William Beaumont Brown. A brother, Major Arthur Boggs, and a sister, Mrs. T. Townsend, reside in England.

The remains repose at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel until this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when they will be conveyed to the late residence, 1880 St. Ann Street. The cortege will proceed at 2:15 Thursday from the residence to St. Mary's Church, where Rev. Canon Wynn will conduct the funeral service. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

FEWER AUTOS ON ROAD THIS YEAR

Statistics Show Greater Number of Renewal Licences, but Fewer Cars Registered in B.C.

The peak of car sales in British Columbia was reached in April of 1929, when approximately five thousand new motor vehicles were put into operation, figures compiled by the motor vehicles branch of the Provincial Government reveal.

From April, 1929, there has been a heavy decrease in the number of new cars registered with the department. In April, 1932, the figures indicate there was less than 150 new autos registered. These figures are for April month only as that month is considered the heaviest of the year for sales.

RENEWALS GREATER

There are more people retaining their cars for another year, the figures of renewals of licences show. The statistics indicate there is a greater number of last year cars operating than there were 1930 cars in 1931.

Fewer cars are on the roads this year. Up to May 31 registrations had reached a total of 79,535. At the end of January there were 53,707. The total for the whole of 1931 is given in the statistical table as 86,468. Although the figures at the end of May are considerably lower than the figures for the same month of 1931, it is anticipated that a great number of owners of cars will take advantage of the six months' licence fee which is in operation from July 1.

DENTAL MEETING CONCLUDED HERE

Delegates Leave for Seattle to Attend Pacific Coast Meeting—Officers Are Chosen

The Pacific Coast Society of Brothodontists, which has been meeting at the Empress Hotel during the past two days, concluded its sessions yesterday afternoon, the majority of members leaving by the afternoon steamer for Seattle, where they will join in the triennial meeting of the Pacific Coast dental gathering, which is in progress this week.

The body which has met here embraces members of the dental profession identified with the restorative section of the science. At the meeting here, illustrated lectures were delivered covering the preservation of teeth, bridge and artificial work, with the latest discoveries in connection with these lines of dentistry.

WILL MEET IN SOUTH

The next meeting of the brothodontists will be held in April, 1933, in San Francisco. This section meets each year as distinct from the main body of dental doctors, who convene every third year.

The officers elected for the year were as follows: President, Frank E. Wood, of Seattle; vice-president, Frank H. McKevitt, of San Francisco; president-elect (who will assume office next year), Dr. T. H. Forde, of San Francisco; secretary-treasurer, Dr. W. H. Terrell, of Pasadena; councillor (elected for three-year term), Dr. David Chase, of Portland. The remaining councillors, who have one and two years' longer, are Dr. Milus M. Hume, of Whittier, Cal., and Dr. J. A. Graham, of San Francisco.

GIVEN FREEDOM BY COURT HERE

Sue Sun Poy, Chinese, Held for Deportation, Succeeds in Appeal

Sue Sun Poy, Chinese, former secretary of the Shake Hand Club, Vancouver, was freed from a deportation order held against him by the immigration authorities, when C. H. O'Halloran, of the legal firm of O'Halloran & Harvey, won his appeal before the Appeal Court of British Columbia here yesterday.

Sue Sun Poy was convicted under the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act and was sentenced to two years at Vancouver. He served his sentence and upon release was rearrested by the immigration authorities and an order for deportation made. Mr. O'Halloran took the case to the Supreme Court here last February on a writ of habeas corpus with certiorari in aid, and his application to have Sue Sun Poy released was dismissed by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald. W. C. Moresby, K.C., was counsel for the Crown at the appeal and endeavored to have the appeal dismissed on the grounds that the conviction under the Drugs Act allowed deportation. Mr. O'Halloran argued that the appellant had already served his sentence for that offence and therefore could not be considered as a part of the habeas corpus proceedings. The decision of the court was based on submission of irregularities in the order of deportation.

Dairymen to Have Picnic Thursday

The first annual dairymen's picnic will be held at the Dominion Experimental Station, Sidney, on Thursday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. Members of the Victoria and Saanich Farm and Dairymen's Association, and the Esquimalt and South Cowichan Associations are eligible to attend. Guests are requested to take their own cups, and tea, ice cream, etc. will be provided on the grounds. The usual sports programme for children will take place, and there will be events also for the mothers and fathers.

TAX RECEIPTS SATISFACTORY

Courtenay Finance Committee Makes Good Report—No Relief Work Now

COURTENAY, July 5.—According to the report of the finance committee at Monday night's City Council meeting, the current year's taxes are coming in very satisfactorily. Already 88 per cent of this year's taxes have been paid, it was stated. This is only $300 less than last year, and the difference is accounted for by the city having taken property in lieu of taxes in the case of one of the larger property owners. Tax receipts to date are $15,058.61, against $15,361 for the first six months of last year.

Reporting for the work being carried out on the Courtenay River slough, Mayor Charles Simms said that eighteen piles had been driven in record time by the Comox Logging Co.'s piler, and that the work was progressing very well. The logging company was thanked for its assistance.

The fire committee reported a loss of $12,750 when the Simms Service Station was burned recently. Insurance was only $5,260.

The action of the Courtenay school trustees in recommending insulating public schools with dry insulux was endorsed by the council, and it was left with the city solicitor and the representative of the Gypsum Co. to draft an agreement for the work.

A letter from the Comox Consolidated School Board, requesting a reduction in the monthly water rate from $7.50 to $4.50, to reimburse the School Board for the cost of installing a pipeline in the sum of $175, was referred to the water committee.

The parks committee reported favorably on the work at present being undertaken at the Lewis Park. There was still a sum of $261.47 in hand from the appropriation of $1,900.

It was reported that no relief work is at present being undertaken, and that the city foreman has been

NEW

Ordinary oils are dark in color because of high carbon, gum and sludge content.

The New Marvelube is clean, clear, bright golden colored—you can see through it. It's all oil.

MARVELUBE MOTOR OIL

THEN YOU'LL UNDERSTAND
WHY YOU SHOULD USE IT

Forget all your old ideas about motor oils and look at the subject in a simple, non-technical way.

What do you expect of a motor oil?—lubrication! The purer an oil is, the freer from carbon-forming, gum and sludge-forming, trouble-making properties, the better lubrication it will give you. ¶ The New Marvelube is all oil. Stop at an Imperial dealer's or service station and look at it—clear, pure, bright golden-colored without undesirable properties to make it fail under intense heat, or thicken too much in cold weather, or deposit gum, carbon, etc. ¶ It is the purest of motor oils and for that reason the best suited for your motor. You wouldn't buy dirty gasoline—why not buy pure motor oil too?

Whether you change oil every 500 miles or every 2500 miles you will get better results with the New Marvelube. Most automobile manufacturers recommend changing oil every 500 miles because oil gets dirty in use and accumulates road grit and other injurious substances.

Next time your crankcase needs re-filling remember that the New Marvelube is the purest of all motor oils—and that means the ideal oil for your car.

MURDER-HAZELMOOR

by AGATHA CHRISTIE

CHAPTER V
"Why shouldn't I say twenty-five past five?" Major Burnaby demanded truculently, "or twenty-five to six—or twenty past four, for that matter?"

"Quite so, sir," said Inspector Narracott soothingly.
He did not wish to antagonize the major just at this moment. He promised himself that he would get to the bottom of the matter before the day was out.

"There's one thing that strikes me as curious, sir," he went on.
"Yes?"

"This business of the letting of Sittaford House. I don't know what you think about it, but it seems to me a curious thing to have happened."

"If you ask me," said Burnaby, "it's odd, very odd."
"That's your opinion?"

"It's everyone's opinion."
"In Sittaford?"

"In Sittaford and Exhampton, too. The woman must be mad."
"Well, I suppose there's no accounting for tastes," said the inspector.

"Very odd taste for a woman of that kind."
"You know the lady?"

"I know her? Why, I was at her house when—"
"When what?" asked Narracott as the major came to an abrupt halt.

"Nothing," said Burnaby.
Inspector Narracott looked at him keenly. There was something here he would have liked to get at. The major's obvious confusion and embarrassment did not escape him. He had been on the point of saying—

"All in good time," said Narracott to himself. "Now isn't the moment to rub him up the wrong way."
"Aloud he said innocently, 'You were at Sittaford House, you say, sir. The lady has been there new—about how long?'"

"A couple of months."
The major was eager to escape the result of his imprudent words. It made him more loquacious than usual.

"A widow lady with her daughter?"
"That's it."

"Does she give any reason for her choice of residence?"
"Well—the major rubbed his nose dubiously. 'She takes a lot, she's that kind of woman—beauties of nature—out of the world—that sort of thing. But—'"

He paused rather helplessly. Inspector Narracott came to his rescue.
"It didn't strike you as natural on her part?"

"Well, it's like this. She's a fashionable sort of woman. Dressed up to the nines—daughter's a smart, pretty girl. Natural thing would be for them to be staying at the Ritz or Claridges, or some other big hotel. You know the sort."

Narracott nodded.
"They don't keep themselves to themselves, do they?" he asked.
"You don't think they are—well—hiding?"

Major Burnaby shook his head positively.
"Oh! no, nothing of that kind. They're very sociable—a bit too sociable, I mean, in a little place like Sittaford, you can't have previous engagements, and when invitations are showered on you it's a bit awkward. They're exceedingly kind, hospitable people, but a bit too hospitable for English ideas."

"The colonial touch," said the inspector.
"Yes, I suppose so."

"You've no reason to think they were previously acquainted with Captain Trevelyan?"
"Sure they weren't."

"You seem very positive?"
"Joe would have told me."

"And you don't think their motive could have been—to escape acquaintance with the captain?"
This was clearly a new idea to the major. He pondered over it for some minutes.

"Well, I never thought of that. They were very gushing to him, certainly. Not that they got any change out of Joe. But no, I think it was just their usual manner. Over friendly, you know, like colonials are."

"I see. Now, as to the house itself. Captain Trevelyan built that, didn't he?"

"Yes, he did."

"And he lived there?"

"Yes, he did."

"And he died there?"

"Yes, he did."

"And he was buried there?"

"Yes, he was."

"And he was buried in the garden?"

"Yes, he was."

"And he was buried in the garden?"

"Yes, he was."

"And he was buried in the garden?"

"She was quite satisfied?"
"She came in and said she was delighted with it."

"And what did you think?" asked Inspector Narracott, eyeing him keenly.
The young man shrugged his shoulders.

"You learn never to be surprised at anything in the house business," he said, as they left.

On reaching the offices of Messrs. Walters & Kirkwood, they were told that Mr. Kirkwood had just arrived and they were shown into his room.

Mr. Kirkwood was an elderly man with a benign expression. He was a native of Exhampton and had succeeded his father and grandfather in the firm.

He rose, put on his mournful face, and shook hands with the major.
"Good morning, Major Burnaby," he said. "This is a very shocking affair. Very shocking indeed. Poor Trevelyan."

He looked inquiringly at Narracott and Major Burnaby explained his presence in a few succinct words.
"You are in charge of the case, Inspector Narracott?"

"Yes, Mr. Kirkwood. In pursuance of my investigations, I have come to ask you for certain information."

"I shall be happy to give you any information if it is proper for me to do so," said the lawyer.
"It concerns the late Captain Trevelyan's will," said Narracott. "I understand the will is here in your office."

"That is so."
"It was made some time ago?"

"Five or six years ago. I cannot be sure of the exact date at the moment."

"I am anxious, Mr. Kirkwood, to know the contents of that will as soon as possible. It may have an important bearing on the case."

"Indeed?" said the lawyer. "Indeed! I should not have thought that, but naturally you know your own business best, Inspector. Well—he glanced across at the other man.

"Major Burnaby and myself are joint executors of the will. If he has no objection—"

"None."

"Then I see no reason why I should not accede to your request, Inspector."

Taking up a speaking tube, he spoke a few words into it. In two or three minutes a clerk entered the room and laid a sealed envelope in front of the lawyer. Mr. Kirkwood drew out a large and important looking document, cleared his throat and began to read—

"I, Joseph Arthur Trevelyan, of Sittaford House, Sittaford, in the County of Devon, declare this to be my last will and testament which I make this thirtieth day of August nineteen hundred and twenty-six."

"(1) I appoint John Edward Burnaby of 1 The Cottages, Sittaford, and Frederick Kirkwood of Exhampton, to be the executors and trustees of this will."

"(2) I give to Robert Henry Evans, who has served me long and faithfully, the sum of £100 (one hundred pounds) free of legacy duty for his own benefit absolutely, provided that he is in my service at the time of my death and not under notice to leave whether given or received."

"(3) I give the said John Edward Burnaby, as a token of my friendship and of my affection and regard for him, all my trophies of sport, including my collection of heads and pelts of big game as well as any challenge cups and prizes awarded to me in any department of sport and any spoils of the chase in my possession."

"(4) I give all my real and personal property, not otherwise disposed of by this will, or any codicil hereto to my Trustees upon trust that my Trustees shall sell, call in and convert the same into money."

"(5) My Trustees shall out of the moneys to arise out of such sale, calling in and conversion pay any funeral and testamentary expenses and debts, and the legacies given by this will, or any codicil hereto and all death duties and other moneys."

"(6) My Trustees shall hold the residue of such moneys or the investments for the time being representing the same upon trust to divide the same into four equal parts or shares."

"(7) Upon such division as aforesaid my Trustees shall hold one such equal fourth part or share upon trust to pay the same to my sister Jennifer Gardener for her own use and enjoyment absolutely."

"And my Trustees shall hold the remaining three such equal fourth parts or shares upon trust to pay one such equal fourth part or share to each of the three children of my deceased sister, Mary Pearson, for the benefit of each such child absolutely."

"In witness whereof, I, the said Joseph Arthur Trevelyan, have hereunto set my hand the day and year first above written."

"Signed by the above named Testator as his last will in the presence of us both present at the time, who in his presence and at his request and in the presence of each other have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses."

Mr. Kirkwood handed the document to the inspector.
"Witnessed by two of my clerks in this office."

BISLEY CAMP, ENGLAND, July 5 (CP).—Firing at the 500 yards of the Kinnaird service rifle shoot, under good skies and with rain falling, Captain J. W. Houlden, of the Sherbrooke, Que., achieved a score of 34 out of a possible 35.

It was good enough to put Houlden in a tie with five other marksmen out of the hundreds from many parts of the Empire competing in the shoot, feature of the second day of the National Rifle Association's meeting, and Houlden will shoot off with his rivals for the prize.

Other Canadian scores in the Kinnaird reflected the conditions. Lieut. J. N. Dow, of Saint John, scoring 22; Lieut. Desmond Burke, of Ottawa, 28; Sgt. Alec Parnell, of Verdun, Que., 26, and Cpl. G. A. Herring, of Ottawa, 22.

Pirates Nose Out New York-ers, 4-3, to Take Two-Game Edge in National

CINCINNATI REDS WALLOP CARDS

NATIONAL LEAGUE PITTSBURGH, July 5.—The Pirates, gathering class and confidence with each new day at the head of the National League race, fought ten innings today to beat out the New York Giants, 4-3, in the first of a six-game series.

Bill Swift, right-handed pitcher, not only won the game but led Bill Walker in a fine mound duel, but delivered the winning run with a single after two were out in the tenth. It was Swift's seventh victory against three defeats.

The victory placed the Pirates two full games ahead of the second place Boston Braves, who were idle.

Reds Wallop Cards
ST. LOUIS, July 5.—"Red" Lucas pitched Cincinnati to a 12-4 victory today over St. Louis, giving the Reds the final game of the series.

It was the same "Red" Lucas who yesterday, as a pinch hitter in the final contest of a double bill, was responsible for the run which allowed Cincinnati to share in a 3-3 deadlock after playing thirteen innings.

The Cincinnati hurler, who allowed Cardinals ten safeties, was given strong batting support, the Reds driving in seven runs in the opening frame to give them a margin which proved ample the rest of the game. Jim Lindsey lashed but a fraction of the inning, Derringer replacing him on the Cardinal mound and giving way later to Stout.

Herman and Lombardi knocked home runs, but the bases were clear in both cases.

In spite of today's defeat the Cards held on to fifth place.

Boxing Experts to Broadcast Future Bouts in N.Y.

NEW YORK, July 5.—As an outgrowth of controversy arising from Jack Sharkey's defeat of Max Schmeling for the heavyweight championship, the New York State Athletic Commission today barred any "boxing experts" from broadcasting descriptions of future matches here.

The Commission defined as boxing experts: "Sports writers, referees or judges."

The description broadcast by Charles Francis Coe, novelist, and Graham McNamee, announcer, indicated Schmeling had a wide margin of points over Sharkey. Although a majority of the critics at the ringside also gave Schmeling an edge in the battling, and the vote of two judges and Referee Gunboat Smith was not unanimous, the decision was favorably received by many spectators and approved by the Boxing Commission.

Old Man Jinx Rides High

Fidel La Barba

FIDEL LA BARBA HAS BEEN HOUNDED BY BAD LUCK FOR YEARS IN HIS CHASE AFTER THE FEATHER TITLE. RECENTLY HE WAS ELIMINATED FROM A TITLE CHANCE ON A POOR VERDICT GIVEN HIMSELF BY THE UNBROKEN CHAMP BY LICKING THE TOURNAMENT WINNER IN A NON-TITLE BOUT!!

MAC SMITH WHO HAS BEEN AFTER THE BRITISH OPEN TITLE ALL HIS LIFE, SHOT A 288 THIS YEAR—ONLY TO SEE SARAZEN SNATCH THE CROWN WITH HIS EPOCH-MAKING 283!

ADY LUCK, gracious dispenser of favors to those fortunate enough to bask in her winning smile, perversely came just as ungracious to those she will not smile upon. To these latter individuals, often deserving, she assigns Old Man Jinx as guide of their destinies. And how that old boy can stick around!

Take the case of little Laverne Fator, premier jockey. Four times this noted star of the saddle has been prevented by some break in his fortune from winning the classic of American turfdom, the Kentucky Derby. In 1923, after galloping and breezing the great racer Zev in preparation for the big race, Laverne was set down on the eve of the classic for an indisposition at Jamaica. He lost the opportunity to ride Zev, which with Sande up, scored a easy victory.

Two years later Fator was engaged to ride Flying Ebony. Again Lady Luck withheld her smile. Trainer Hildreth decided to race Mad Play in the East Derby, and Fator was scheduled to ride Flying Ebony in the Derby and won. In 1929 he was scheduled to ride Zev in preparation for the big race, but his horse was injured, and he was forced to ride Flying Ebony in the Derby and won. In 1930 he was scheduled to ride Zev in preparation for the big race, but his horse was injured, and he was forced to ride Flying Ebony in the Derby and won.

Favorites Hold Sway at Lansdowne—Genghis Khan Cops Handicap

VANCOUVER, July 5 (CP).—Favorites ruled the roost in today's racing bill at Lansdowne Park and only in the closing events were part-mutuel patrons able to collect worthwhile dividends.

Genghis Khan, J. M. Cooper's six-year-old bay gelding, captured the Vectors' Handicap, feature run of the programme. Away with an early break, the Khan left his field behind to take an easy victory.

Jokers, Todds and Ross Bay Winners in Westholme Ball

In the closest of Monday night's Westholme softball games, the league leading Jokers' nine took a 7-6 victory from Cameron's Malted Milk in the eighth inning, when Ivan Sweeney hard-hitting outfielder, drove out a homer with two on and with Cameron's holding a 6-4 lead. Todds handed Colwood a 17-13 setback, and Ross Bay swamped the Moose, 19-3.

The Cameron's-Jokers game provided plenty of fine ball for the fans, with Ted Fox and Louis de Costa pitching in four runs and held the lead until the eighth when Sweeney knocked out a well-earned victory for the Jokers.

Ross Bay experienced little difficulty in taking the Moose, obtaining a steady lead and increasing it steadily throughout.

The Todds-Colwood game was also close, the lead ebb-and-flowing from one team to the other during the game.

CAMPBELL DEFEATED BY HENRY NEER IN HARD-FOUGHT MATCH

Local Ace Gives Portlander Great Battle in Singles—Victoria Doubles Team Also Goes Under in Sectionals Before Americans—Hocking Beats Shields in Western

VANCOUVER, July 25.—Visiting American players of the better class continue to advance in the Western Canada tennis championships at Vancouver club. It began to look like an all-American final in the singles events, with Prusoff and Dranga, of Seattle, the contenders in the semi-finals. While Miss Gracy Wheeler, of San Francisco, Oregon State champion, will probably win the women's event, she may be given good opposition by Mrs. Haggart, of Vancouver.

Only Americans are left in the P.N.W. sectionals, both in singles and doubles. In the singles, Dranga eliminated Jack Brown, of Vancouver, and meets Henry Neer, of Portland, who disposed of Don Campbell, Victoria's nominee, in the hardest match of the tourney, 6-3, 5-7, 10-8, 6-2.

In the doubles of this event, Prusoff and Johnson (Portland), meet Neer and Lewis, of Portland. Prusoff and Johnson needed four sets to conquer the Jericho team of Spurling and Kinney, of Victoria, 6-3, 4-6, 3-6, 6-2.

In the doubles of this event, Prusoff and Johnson (Portland), meet Neer and Lewis, of Portland. Prusoff and Johnson needed four sets to conquer the Jericho team of Spurling and Kinney, of Victoria, 6-3, 4-6, 3-6, 6-2.

HOCKING ADVANCES

In the Western Canada, a mild surprise was scored by Bud Hocking, of Victoria, who beat Gordon Shields in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5. Shields has been playing his best tennis of the past three years. Robbs, of Portland, bested Lantz, 6-3, 7-5. Neer also had little trouble in advancing at the expense of Hurd.

The Milne sisters, of Vancouver, scored a very good victory over Carolyn Fringes, of Tacoma, and Helen McBride, of Portland, 6-3, 6-3. Jean Milne is city champion. The Vancouver girls played steeper tennis and displayed a better variety of shots.

The feature match of the women's singles was between Muriel Munro, former city champion, who was defeated by Miss T. Smith, of San Francisco, in three sets, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4. Carolyn Fringes needed only two sets to beat Genevieve Grant, of San Francisco.

Stocks Slip and Bonds Advance At Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 5.—Stocks were in rather depressed spirits today. Prices sagged sharply during early trading, but hardened after about an hour of sluggish selling. Recoveries, however, were painfully slow and although the market closed above the bottom, there was a liberal representation of fractional to 2-point net declines. Turnover amounted to 612,870 shares, or around the average for recent sessions.

American Telephone swayed down more than 3 points to the old low, 75 1/2, on news of an adverse rate decision in Wisconsin. Public Service of New Jersey, Consolidated Gas, North America, American Water Works and Detroit Edison were off 1 to 2 1/2 at the worst.

Rails were fairly steady, with the exception of Union Pacific, which made a new minimum. Also, there was some buying of metal stocks, particularly the gold shares, although the move was not clear.

Sustained buying appeared in United States and foreign government obligations which imparted a cheerful tone to the bond market. Domestic Corporation issues were steady, but rather featureless.

Gains in the foreign list were widespread, with German Government bonds running up 2 to over 4 points. Prussian Free State securities were up more than 6 points. German 7 1/2's soared 4 1/2, and the 5 1/2's gained 5 1/4. Berlin and other German municipals were also buoyant.

Australian Government securities were in brisk demand. New South Wales bonds rallying more than 6 points.

United States Government loans were uniformly higher.

Transactions totaled 89,813,000 par value.

WHEAT PRICES OFF FRACTIONS

Trading Quiet at Winnipeg—Demand for October Bolsters Market

WINNIPEG, July 5 (CP).—Concentrated support in the October future prevented wheat from showing more than fractional dips on the grain market here today, but trading was very quiet. Weak cables from Liverpool on reports of Russian wheat offerings, poor export interest and good rains in the West were capable for the declines.

July was 3-8 lower at 53 1/4, October 1-8 to 1-4 lower at 56, and December off 1-4 to 57 1/4.

Very good support held prices steady at the opening, when wheat poured in from some American interests. A substantial increase was shown in the Canadian wheat visible figures for the week and the decrease of 1,334,000 in the case of the United States was not big enough to help the market much.

The cash wheat market again displayed a very dull trend, with bidding from active and offerings limited mostly to odd cars as they came in from the country.

Little in way of cash sales could be traced in coarse grains. Support in general was thin and all futures leaned to the easy side throughout.

Stars in "The Rich Are Always With Us" With George Brent

Ruth Chatterton herself discovered the story of "The Rich Are Always With Us," now playing at the Dominion Theatre, while she was snowbound for a week at Arrowhead Lake, seventy miles east of Hollywood.

The First National star had gone to the mountain resort for a week's rest, taking with her an armful of books suggested by the studio for further consideration on starting vehicles. She had not read twenty pages of the novel before her interest was aroused. By the time she reached the final chapter, she knew she had found her first story. A long-distance telephone call to the First National studio next morning advised them of her decision.

"E. Pettit," the author of "The Rich Are Always With Us," is, in real life, Mrs. Arthur Somers-Roche, the wife of the famous novelist, and a warm personal friend of Ruth Chatterton. "The Rich Are Always With Us" boasts an unusual ally strong cast of film favorites, including George Brent, Bette Davis, John Miljan, Mae Madison, John Wray, Robert Warwick, Walter Walker and Burton Churchill.

EMPIRE A double romance is

THEATRE effectively woven into the plot of "The Devil's Lottery," Fox Film production, current attraction at the Empire Theatre. The leading role is enacted by Elissa Landi, whose previous successes include "Body and Soul,"

"Wicked" and "The Yellow Ticket."

Supporting roles are portrayed by

Victor McLaglen, Alexander Kirkland, Paul Cavanagh, Beryl Mercer

and Barbara Weeks. It is a Sam

Taylor production.

ROMANO "Dracula," Bram Stoker's novel on which is based Universal's weird screen story of vampires and their terrifying life after death, is one of the most popular books in the realm of fiction. Though originally published many years ago, the yearly sales of this fascinating volume average 40,000 copies. "Dracula," with Bela Lugosi in the title role, closes today at the Romano Theatre.

CAPITOL Seventy-five full dress

THEATRE extras worked recently in a palace of chance set for "Sinners in the Sun" as background for Chester Morris and Carole Lombard. About 200 were used in a garden party scene, a dance absorbed another 200, two style shows took 100 each, and a street scene about 50 more. This social drama, with settings depicting Manhattan and Long Island social life, is the current feature at the Capitol Theatre.

COLUMBIA Once again, Ernst

Lubitsch, the master

craftsman of cinema-matic productions, scores a hit in

"One Hour With You," now being shown at the Columbia Theatre. With

Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette

MacDonald teamed together for their best work, assisted by players of excellent past performance, with

George Cukor coaching, and Ernst

Lubitsch's discerning eye and hand at the controls, there is little wonder that Paramount's "One Hour

With You" scores heavily, and that picture fans pack the seats.

PLAYHOUSE You'll be humming

some new and catchy tunes when you've seen and heard "Puttin' on the Ritz," the United Artists alldiologue musical film special, starring the Broadway singing favorite,

Harry Richmond, which closes today at the Playhouse Theatre. Eight new songs, several of them written by Berlin especially for the picture, are introduced to the public by Richmond in this production.

MUSIC IS IMPORTANT IN "GIRL OF THE RIO"

Three noted orchestras provided the dance, orchestral and inspirational music for RKO-Radio Pictures' "Girl of the Rio," colorful story of old Mexico, starring Dolores Del Rio, coming to the Playhouse Theatre, tomorrow.

The internationally famous Marimba Band, under the leadership of Eduardo Durante, former officer of the Mexican revolutionary army, was imported from Mexico City especially for the stirring scenes in the border casino.

Leon Herriford's Negro Orchestra of fourteen pieces was borrowed from the Lincoln Theatre, Los Angeles, to provide the jazz dance music. The inspirational or set music was the work of Director Herbert Brenon's famous salon orchestra.

What Today Means"CANCER"
If July 6 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., from 4 p.m. to 5:15 p.m., and 11 p.m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 7 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

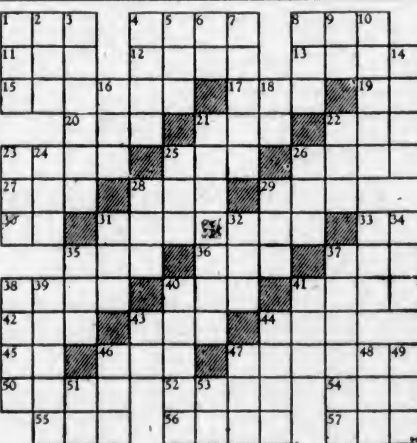

As the planets are so placed on July 6, adverse effects on earth in general are forecast. A depressing atmosphere may be cleared through electrical storms or wind. Most people will feel without much "push" and only the necessary duties will be attended to, and, probably, with much grumbling.

The child born on this July 6 will be too responsible and too self-entertaining to be difficult to manage. It will be full of practical jokes, but will have a very tender heart, and will be passionately fond of animals and should be allowed pets, if living where it is possible.

A negative frame of mind is decidedly in your disfavor, if born on July 6. You seem to have a preference for saying "No" rather than "Yes," and it has become a habit for you to raise objections to any and every thing. You allow the "come" to override the "pro" when the reverse would be to your benefit. You also are given to disagreeing with people for the sake of argument, and you must be approached along negative, not positive, lines, if you are to be won over to the opposite camp.

Why go through life with the brakes on? Progress with a car is not made until the wheels are at liberty to speed. Ideas are the driving power of the human machine, and you cannot make progress without them.

You are equally sparing with your hate, and rarely excite passion in others. As a man gives, so he receives, and your life will be filled with more acquaintances than friends or enemies. You are not very optimistic, and forget that Spring always follows the miseries of Winter, and that the flow of the tide follows the ebb. You grit your teeth, so that it is impossible to come smiling through your misfortunes. You take things as a stoic martyr. You do your work conscientiously, but not always ungrudgingly.
